

Pulmonary Hypertension

The
other high
blood pressure

Often misunderstood and missed in diagnosis, Pulmonary Hypertension is an elevation of pressure only in the blood flowing within the arteries of the lungs. It is NOT the kind of blood pressure that's measured with a cuff on your arm.

If you have diagnosed shortness of breath, or shortness of breath that is not improving with treatment, talk to your doctor about the possibility of Pulmonary Hypertension.

helpline 0800 389 8156

fax 0701 071 5723

website www.pha-uk.com